

RIO REGULAR INVESTMENT ACCOUNT GBP

Investment Manager Comments

The Sterling version of the Regular Account is the latest edition to the Club's active stock trading platform and the results to date have been satisfactory. Members should note that the product was launched to take full advantage of the predicted stock market volatility caused by Brexit.

The Account has produced no less than six consecutive gaining months, with the total gain to date being 7.46%, whilst the FTSE has returned a far less palatable return of -2.87% over the same period.

In the short-term, I am expecting and am awaiting the arrival of an UK stock market correction, and as an active trader I am very prepared to take full advantage of this.

Those invested should take note that if my predictions are proved accurate, then we could easily see a double digit gain in the coming months. Looking further ahead, as Brexit negotiations continue I expect stock market volatility and, accordingly, investment opportunities for those prepared and well versed in this market.

All stocks selected for inclusion in this product continue to be actively traded, and none are being bought and held.
